Although still relatively young, APACC has already brought together many representatives from all types of businesses to create support for economic development and to ensure the prosperity of our community.

While there are many strong local community chambers of commerce in the metropolitan area, the regionally focused APACC stands alone in serving the entire community of businesses located in Montgomery, Fairfax, Washington DC and other area jurisdictions.

Whether it is to tap into APACC's international links or to better understand the region's fast growing Asian Pacific American market, APACC is there to help governments, businesses and associations alike extend their reach. APACC fosters business-to-business relationships, greater access to the APA business community in the region and a deeper understanding of the customer base and demographics of the area's Asian Pacific American community.
